

Effective and affordable fundraising and communications services for charities

Many nonprofits struggle to find, train, and retain the help they need in fundraising and communications. Working with an expert, outsourced partner like Next in Nonprofits can get your mission the right tools at the right time to maximize your community engagement and investment.

- · Comprehensive development planning and strategies
- Individual donor campaigns and support
- Grants research, management, and application
- Corporate sponsorship
- Support for board and staff committees
- Email newsletters and campaigns, including reporting
- · Social media planning, execution, and reporting
- Website updates and embedded tools such as donor forms
- Donor/Constituent Relationship Management (CRM) tools and reporting
- Integrated events support
- Peer-supported fundraising campaigns for events such as Give to the Max Day

All of these services can cost less than hiring internal staff. A partnership with Next in Nonprofits provides you with a dedicated consultant for your board or staff - someone who knows your work and your needs and can provide you with strategic guidance and project execution. Your consultant is backed by our expert team to provide additional support and perspective giving you confidence that your mission is being served.

Next in Nonprofits can provide:

- Limited, project-based pricing for specific needs such as selecting and implementing a database or creating an annual fund development calendar
- Ongoing support for specific needs, such as individual donor campaigns, communications management, or grant writing
- Full outsourcing of all development work to integrate support in all these areas

Words from some of our clients

"Starting from a nearly nonexistent donor stewardship program, Next in Nonprofits has helped us develop a strategic fund development plan, supporting our staff and board through every step of implementation."

Laura Scholl - Metro Blooms

"Our experience has been excellent! Steve and his colleagues have guided us from a dream to a solid foundation."

Peter Rachleff - East Side Freedom Library

"Next in Nonprofits helped us grow from a mostly volunteer organization to a professional team meeting our community's needs. They are trusted advisors as well as doing the work of a development team."

Imam Makram El-Amin Al-Maa'uun

"Next in Nonprofits has been a great partner for my organization. They respond quickly, listen to what I need, and offer quality support."
